The project activities began with assessment of potential beneficiaries in four sub counties and ended with the distribution of goats and piglets to the selected beneficiaries on 8 June 2019 where 54 received their animals. On 9 July 2019, other 46 youth also received their animals to make 90. The distribution took place at sub county level and was witnessed by youth leaders, community leaders and a team from RTY led by the Executive Director, Dr Abel Mwebembezi.

Each youth received either one female piglet or one female goat. The project benefited 90 youth both males and females from the four sub counties of Bubaare, Rubaya, Rwanyamahembe and Bukiro in Mbarara District.

By the end of the assessment activity, out of the targeted 92 youth, a total of 90 most deserving youth were selected to benefit from the project from the four subcounties of Bubaare, Bukiro, Rwanyamahembe and Rubaya. Out of 90 youth 48 were males while 42 were females who most deserved this project. Animals distributed, 56 were goats and 34 were piglets.

A memorandum of understanding between the youth beneficiaries and RTY was signed between every IGA beneficiary and RTY committing both parties to specific obligations that will promote the sustainability of the project. The MOU was also endorsed by the chairperson LC III of the respective sub counties. Local leaders and RTY representatives shall keep on monitoring the beneficiary youth to ensure that animals are looked after well and are benefiting the family. The beneficiary youths are expected to look after those animals well so that they can multiply and be a source of income for the youth and their immediate family members. In the long run, this project is expected to eradicate poverty and prevent the youth from getting involved in risky and negative behaviors that put their lives at risk.

Regular monitoring of the economic empowerment Programme will continue to take place among the beneficiaries during the first 2 years of the project. Follow up meetings between RTY staff and the youth beneficiaries with their care givers to keep RTY updated on the progress of the project. The youth who received pigs shall return to piglets at 6 months' age to the project and give them to other two youth in the same area. Therefore, this will have a much wider multiplier effect. ## 2.0 Assessment of Youth for Income Generating Activities.

RTY was aware that many youths would like to engage in goat and piggery rearing. However, because of limited funding it was not possible to support every interested youth. In addition, some youth were more socio-economically needier than others. RTY, therefore, wanted the support to go to the youth who deserved it most, were interested most and were committed. RTY designed a project beneficiary assessment form and involved local leaders namely the local, youth, women and religious leaders to identify the youth (male or female) they thought were best suited to receive the support.

RTY was interested in youth that were between 14-24 years, had good character, would be committed to the project, those that had shown some initiative of starting a project of their own and were of trusted and reliable character. It was also agreed that both male and female youth should be given equal opportunity. The beneficiary assessment tool was designed by RTY and used by local and youth leaders to collect data in the subcounties of Bukiro, Bubaare, Rubaya and Rwanyamahembe. The assessment tool was endorsed by LCIII chairpersons at subcounty level. By the end of this activity, out of the targeted 66 youth, a total of 54 most deserving youth were selected to benefit from the project from 3 subcounties of Bubaare, Bukiro and Rubaya as indicated in the tables below.

5.0 Questions and concerns raised by community members and youth beneficiaries at the distribution functions.

During these functions, community members got an opportunity to raise their concerns and whatever wasn't clear for them regarding CACTES project. The questions were captured and are listed below.

Question	Clarification
"What can we do in case animals get a serious disease and in a very short period of time?"	Immediately contact the veterinary extension worker based at the sub county for technical assistance. Get their contacts from LCIII chairpersons.
"How is Dr. Abel planning for old people?"	For the time being the focus is on youth and may be in future a Programme for old people may also be supported.
"Can your RTY organize holiday camp especially in the holiday to teach the youth about HIV / AIDs and also conduct HIV testing?"	RTY Director replied that this was an excellent request from the you. He promised to talk to RTY partners and more so CACTES Association to establish if there is a possibility of securing funds to support or contribute for the holiday camp. He added the youth determination to know more about HIV and AIDS to show interest in HIV issues and more so HIV testing was good sign of commitment to remain in good health.
Director, RTY has said those who received pig shall return two piglets after the first delivery, what about us who have taken goats?	Those who received goats shall not be required to return anything because they produce one or two and take 6 months as gestation period. Pigs take 3 months, 3 weeks and 3 days to farrow (produce) and produce 8-12 piglets each time they farrow. In one year a pig produces 3 times and a goat once. So those who have received pigs will get about 30 piglets in one year and one-month piglet costs 50,000 (US$.00). If a youth sold all 30 piglets, she or he will earn UGX 1,687,500(US$450.00). Therefore, it is justifiable that those who received pigs return two which shall be given to other youth. A special committee comprised of youth leaders, local leaders and RTY as ex-official will be formed to oversee the recovery and distribution of pigs collected from youth. Clear guidelines will be issued in due course by RTY.

6.0 Conclusion

The community members were extremely happy to see such projects being brought to their areas for the first time. They also thanked the RTY Executive Director for his good relationship with the international community.

RTY wishes to extend her sincere thanks to CACTES Association- Canada for providing resources to purchase IGA in puts that were given to the youth to improve their livelihood and the community of Kashari in Mbarara District. The distribution of goats and piglets is expected to create a great impact in the community.

On a special note RTY extends her sincere appreciation to the local leaders and the community especially the youth representatives at the sub county level, chairpersons LCIII who answered RTY's call and assisted in mobilizing the youth beneficiaries for social economic empowerment. Without their active participation, it would have been hard to achieve what has been so far realized.

Project II

Distribution of Sports Equipment in Mbarara District

Reach the youth Uganda has began on a new project of distributing sports equipment in the primary schools however, not all schools in Mbarara shall benefit. This is because of limited funds but we would love to give all. RTY selected 21 primary schools to benefit from this project in the four sub counties of Bubaare, Bukiro, Rubaya and Rwanyamahembe. The criteria that was followed while selecting those schools was considering schools with the highest population in each Sub-county. These were as follows; 6 primary schools in Bubaare while the rest of Sub Counties we considered 5 schools in each. We managed to identify these schools with the help of the Chairpersons of Headteachers in each sub-County.

We are all aware that sports have tangible advantages to the lives of both learners and teachers. Sports is good for our health and other associated benefits accruing out of sports include

- (i) It makes people remain fit and hence sports are medicine if one is to remain healthy.
- (ii) Sports offer entertainment and relaxation of mind.
- (iii) Sports at international and local level generate income to individual players, workers in arenas, service providers, drinks and food, transporters and the community through taxation.
- (iv) Games and sports change people's character hence promoting good discipline.
- (v) Games bring unity as people train, play together, and share moments of relaxations.
- (vi) Promotes friendship, peace, and every responsible citizen treasures peace.
- (vii) Sports has now been turned into a career and some have gained lucrative remunerations

As a result, RTY is proud to be associated with sports and therefore is happy to have lobbied and attracted support for our dear schools and to supplement government efforts in the area of sports. Allow RTY take this opportunity to congratulate the schools that will benefit from the first lot of support. To this end, the director RTY would love to thank the local leaders for the support extended to RTY.

The table below shows pioneer schools to benefit from the sports and games project July 2019
